OUR CULINARY ETHOS

Excellence, quality & sustainability

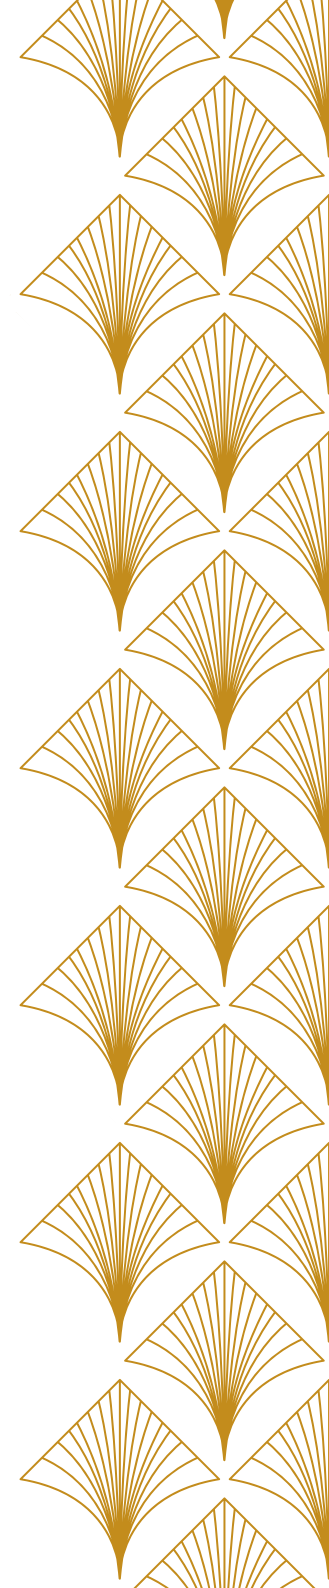

Sustainability is not just a commitment; it's a core value woven through every aspect of what we do. We partner with ethical suppliers who share our values, ensuring that our meat and dairy are responsibly sourced, our eggs and poultry are always free-range, and our seafood is either wild-caught or sustainably farmed.

We champion seasonal produce, working with trusted local farmers and foragers to reduce food miles and celebrate the best of the British larder. Our plant-based and plant-forward options are designed with the same creativity and care, offering vibrant alternatives without compromise.

From classic British dishes reimagined through modern techniques to fully bespoke menus tailored to your event's theme and purpose, we offer a culinary experience that's both nostalgic and forward-thinking.

Our team is continually evolving, investing in training, honing new skills, and refining every element of our craft. Every component of each dish is made in-house, ensuring absolute quality control and an unforgettable dining experience.

SUPPLIERS' TESTIMONIALS

“ Having known Anton since 1997, it was a big nod of confidence to my new business in 2018, that he was happy to allow us to serve his team in the kitchen at BAFTA right from the start.

It has always been a pleasure to supply BAFTA with fresh produce as the high end of the catering industry is where we operate at our best. Their commitment to quality and respect for produce is only ever rivalled at this top level, and their concern for seasonality, provenance and sustainability sits well with how we have chosen to operate.

The team at BAFTA 195 Piccadilly has always maintained a high standard of excellence and professionalism in this industry.

Thornicrofts

“ We have been supplying BAFTA 195 Piccadilly with air-dried meats, salamis, cured and cooked meat products for well over a decade.

The team at BAFTA have always been a pleasure to work with. Anton creates amazingly inventive dishes with our products, and, as a whole the collaboration experience has been a real pleasure. Their team is professional, diligent, and consistently maintain high standards in the quality and sourcing of their menu ingredients. Anton often asks for ideas and makes suggestions and we value this level of collaboration very highly.

What sets them apart is their commitment to their industry, and their philosophies regarding food and drink quality and integrity, which very much align with our own.

We are proud to contribute to their menu and look forward to continuing our partnership.
