Madera at Treehouse London sits at the intersection of elevated Mexican cuisine and experiential dining. As the little sister to Los Angeles-based Toca Madera, this ingredient-forward concept is built for the bustling London diner.

As the sun sets, so do the lights, but everything else rises—energy, music, expectations. The experience is completely chameleonic, shape-shifting for each meal period while highlighting authentic Mexican flavour complemented by sweeping London views.

All of our dishes are adapted to suit special dietary requirements.
