

State Apartments

Founded by King Charles II in 1682 and opened 10 years later, the Royal Hospital Chelsea's historic buildings were designed by famed architect Sir Christopher Wren and lie within 66 acres of beautiful grounds in central London. The Hospital now houses around 300 Pensioners and is packed full of history and stories.

The State Apartments are comprised of two sumptuous adjoining rooms; the Ante Room and Council Chamber. Decorated with 300-year-old paintings of important figures in the Royal Hospital's creation, this space is ideal for drinks receptions, civil ceremonies, formal dinners and more.
