The image shows a contemporary game room. A large, L-shaped brown leather sofa is the central piece of furniture, adorned with several colorful throw pillows. In front of the sofa are two round wooden coffee tables. One table holds a laptop, a small potted plant, and a bowl. The other table holds a box of board games. To the left, a black side table holds several glass bottles. The room features a dark grey wall with several small, round, light-colored decorative objects. Large windows on the right side offer a view of a city skyline. The ceiling has exposed black wiring and several small, warm-toned pendant lights. A black floor lamp is positioned near the sofa.

Good to Knows

Zoku is Globally B Corp Certified

Zoku Amsterdam has been B Corp certified since 2018, being the first hotel company in the Netherlands to receive this recognition. Today, every Zoku location holds this certification, ensuring your events are hosted in spaces that put people and the planet first.

Awarded by B Lab, the certification process looks at every facet of our impact, from how we care for our team and guests to how we protect the environment. That critical mindset guides every choice we make, from designing our meeting spaces and Lofts to selecting suppliers, ensuring your event contributes to a more sustainable future.

When you choose Zoku Amsterdam, you're choosing a venue that meets the highest social and environmental standards without compromising on creativity, comfort or connection. This way your event leaves a lasting impression, not a heavy footprint.
